Legal Intelligence System for Cheque Dishonour

1. INTRODUCTION :

The Legal Intelligence System for Section 138 (Cheque Dishonour under the Negotiable Instruments Act) is a domain-specific legal decision-support platform designed to streamline legal research and case analysis related to cheque dishonour matters.

Cheque dishonour cases constitute a significant portion of criminal litigation in India. Legal professionals often spend extensive time manually reviewing precedents, verifying statutory compliance, and analyzing judgments.
This system provides:

- Search Indian court judgements
- Upload case files for analysis
- Identify similar cases
- Track precedents
- Study judicial trends

2. SYSTEM FEATURES:

2.1. System Architecture Layers

This system follows Three-Tier Architecture.

1. Presentation Layer:

- Lawyer login
- Admin login
- Case upload interface
- Structured search form
- Filter options
- Case result display
- Admin approval dashboard

2. Application Layer

- Authentication & role validation
- Lawyer ID verification
- Case approval workflow
- Search and filtering engine
- Statutory notice compliance check
- Case publishing logic
- Database coordination

3. Database Layer

- Stores Lawyers and Admin login
- Stores Lawyer details
- Stores Lawyer ID
- Stores case files

2.2. High-Level Data Flow

- User logs into the system.
- Lawyer uploads case details and supporting documents.
- System verifies lawyer credentials.
- Case is stored as “Pending Approval.”
- Admin reviews case details.
- Admin approves or rejects the case.
- Approved cases are published into the searchable database.
- Users perform structured searches.
- System retrieves relevant case precedents and displays results.

2.3. Login

- Lawyer login/sign up
- Lawyer ID, Mail ID, Password
- Admin login - ID and Password

2.4. Lawyer Verification
(Managed by Admin)

- Lawyer ID verification - for sign up - Output: Verification status
- Lawyer authentication - for login - Output :login success / fail
- Lawyer case file :
  - Review uploaded case details
  - Approve or reject case
  - Publish approved cases
  - Maintain approval logs

2.5. Structured Search

- Accept Search Parameters from form
- Accept the file based search if uploaded
- Search Engine
- Resulted case files

2.6. Filtering

- Court level
- Limitation period
- Statutory notice compliance
- Fine amount
- Rank results based on filters

2.7. Result:

1. Over all summary of case
2. Report with keypoints and highlights
   - Lawyer name
   - Judge name
   - Court level
   - Nature of debt, etc
   - Download option
3. Case File Download
   - Download File with highlights

2.8. Lawyer Profile

- Lawyer personal info
- University studied
- Court level , etc..
- Edit option
- New case file upload

2.9. Admin Page

- Lawyer ID verification - Output: Verification status
- Lawyer case file :
  - Review uploaded case details
  - Approve or reject case
  - Publish approved cases
  - Maintain approval logs
- Over all management

2.10. Database Management

- Store case records
- Maintain relational mapping
- Mange approval logs
- Maintain indexes for fast search

2.10.1. User Table

- Lawyer ID
- Email
- Password
- Other detail from profile
- One admin login data

2.10.2 Lawyer

- Lawyer ID
- Bar council number
- Verification Status

2.10.3. Case Table

- Document ID
- File path
- Date of uploaded
- Who uploaded (admin/lawyer)

2.11. Non-Functional Requirements

2.11.1. Security

- Role-Based Access Control
- Admin-only approval rights
- Encrypted password storage
- Secure document storage
- HTTPS communication

2.11.2. Scalability

- Three - tier architecture
- Modular components separation
- Expandable database structure

2.11.3. Usability

- Structured search form
- Clear approval status
- Clean admin dashboard
- Easy navigation

3. CONCLUSION

The Legal Intelligence System for Section 138 provides a structured, secure, and efficient platform for managing cheque dishonour cases.

By integrating lawyer verification, admin-controlled publishing, statutory compliance checks, and structured filtering mechanisms, the system significantly reduces manual legal research effort.